

Multinational Qualitative Study on Child Well-being

Research team from South Africa

We are a research team based at the University of the Western Cape in Cape Town, South Africa. Our team is made up of six individuals based at the Department of Psychology, and have been working with children and young people for the past 15 years. Our interests are in how children think about various things that affect their lives and how improvements can be made for the benefit of all children. In our research we always include children as part of the research team and often use fun activities such as constructing community maps and photography. Through our research we remain committed to improve the lives of children and young people.
